New Idea a Great Hit, for Poor Debtors Are Scared and "Make Good" to Keep Them

THEY CAMP ON YOUR TRAIL.

Where Man Can Be Dismissed or Ignored, the Fair Collector Cannot, and the Success of the Idea

New York has fallen into the hands of order of female workers, and the latest occupation which has opened its doors to the feminine sex has placed unsuspecting man at their mercy.

The woman collector is the new proposition, and she is generally young and pretty and she has an eye to business.

attractive young woman who holds a secret heart pang for a delin-quent borrower is an importation from the windy western city of Chicago-that is, the idea eminated from the wild and unconventional Illinois burg-and already the effete East is being shaker to the depths of its traditional conservatism by the advent of these beribbone

It remained for an enterprising Chicago firm of money lenders to bring the scheme into New York. Out in Chicago it has worked wonders, and in Manhattan, where the game is new, it is being played with even better success.

Pretty Girls Get the Money. The idea of this loan firm is to employ attractive young women to collect their bills, and they claim that the plan is so successful that they would not hire man collector. Woman has not only invaded the field, but she has driven

The shrewd Chicago scheme which has been transplanted to New York, where the firm employing woman collectors has a branch office, is based on the principle that a woman can disarm suspicion quicker than a man.

The fair collector starts out to coland when the office boy approaches him with the information that a "man outpt him to send out word that he is not in. There is no way for the man

"Lady outside wants to see you," anmounces the office boy.
"What does she look like and what does she want?" is the usual inquiry.
"She says it's very personal, and she's young and looks well—like a peach," is the answer which inevitably lures the inneuspecting delinquent into the net.

to wait for the man who owed the money. Of course he was an object of attention when he appeared and was conducted to the waiting female with the collecting habit.

He didn't know what was coming, and all kinds of conquests surged through his mind as he wondered if he had ever seen that face before. But he was soon disflussionized.

"I come from Blank & Co.," anmounced the young woman, dropping her ingenue expression and becoming all business, "and I want to collect the money you owe the firm."

It was an unpleasant surprise, but the Stoma

MISS HALL, WHOSE BEAUTY AND TALENT HAVE WON SUCCESS ON STAGE.

She Will Begin Week's Engagement at West End Theatre To-Night.

THE leading lady of the Pike Theatre stock company which is to open an engagement of a week in the West End Theatre to-night, is one of the beautiful women of the stage and an actress who has won her way in the face of difficulties that would have discouraged one less devotedly attached to her profession.

Miss Mary Hall came to New York from Kansas City. where her family is socially prominent. For some time after her arrival she had to battle with the indifference of managers to inexperience. Her beauty would have secured a position in the chorus, where especial talent is not required, but she had made up her mind to succeed in the legitimate, and finally succeeded in getting a small part in the company of

She showed in a very short time that her confidence in herself was justified. Her next engagement was with the Mary Mannering company, in which she acted as understudy to the star. While playing Miss Mannering's part she was seen by Kirke La Shelle, and when he decided to send his star company to London with "Arizona" he selected Miss Hall for the leading emotional part. She made a great hit in the English metropolis. Upon her return to New York with the "Arizona" company she was engaged to play leads with the Castie Square stock company In Boston. All through last summer she played twice a day in a variety of parts, ranging from Juliet to the heroine in melodrama. The training she gained was of great value to her and placed her in the front rank of stock leading women.

Out of a variety of offers made at the beginning of this season she accepted that from the management of the Pike Theatre stock company, of Cincinnati. This company has been a prime favorite all winter in Cincinnati, Washington and Baltimore, Miss Hall will appear to-night in the pareated by Viola Allen in "The Christian."

New Plan of Economy Adds Two Hours to Their Working Day, and They Are Angry.

In following his well-defined plan of President Winters, of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, to-day issued an order for the seventy-five women lect money due from a man employed in ticket agents along the lines of the elevated roads to work twelve hours a day money is generally painfully aware of it, hereafter instead of ten as heretofore. While the young women have no organization and will not strike, they are side wants to see him" his suspicions angry, and it is likely many will surrender their positions. They say that since Winters took charge of the comcollector to break past the various de- pany they have been compelled to do the outside world and the sacred preplaces clean.

Mr. Ditmars told the police that Mr. Dennison attended a meeting of the company at the factory in Buffaio March 17 It lasted until 10 o'clock that night. Mention was made of the illness of a Mr. Forsythe, a member of the concern, who was said to be dying. Mr. Dennison remarked that his troubles would soon be over. He spent that night at the hotel, and the next morning about 7 o'clock was seen five blocks away by a friend, who informed him of Mr. Forsythe's death. He went on his way and since then no one who knows him has seen him.

John Olsen, of No. 233 Hamilton avenually collected to dearway the best scheme it ever tried. Of course a man can meet a man and hell him what he thinks of him when he springs a bill, but he is totally disarmed when a pretty girl makes the attack. Then the woman always has the best chance of breaking in. No one suspects her of being a bill collector. A man in a downtown office who had borrowed 850 from the firm in question and who was next to the man-collectors business was cornered by a pretty young woman, who actually collected the money which several men collectors had ineffectually attempted to get. The girl broke into the office by some sweet, mild persuasion, and sat down to wait for the man who owed the smoney.
